

Does the same head do the same thing under the other split?

One point per head · axes are measured on disjoint recordings

